

The call you miss at 6 p.m. is the customer somebody else keeps.

Every business has work that never gets done because nobody was free to do it — the call that went to voicemail, the quote nobody followed up on, the review nobody asked for. That is not a people problem. It is a nobody-was-free-to-do-it problem, and it is exactly what a small, purpose-built system handles without complaint.

What happens to a call at 7 p.m. on a Saturday?

If the answer is voicemail, you are paying to bring in customers who quietly go to whoever answers next.

How many leads from last month never got a second reply?

Most work is lost in the silence after the first conversation, not on price.

Who asks for the review when the job goes well?

Everyone is busy doing the actual work. Asking never rises to the top of the list.

MONTHLY Three ways to run it

STARTER

Never Miss a Call

$300 / month

- Missed calls get an instant text back, day or night
- After-hours callers captured with name, contact, and what they need
- Booking and quote requests routed straight to your phone
- Urgent messages flagged so real ones reach you fast

GROWTH · MOST CHOSEN

Follow-Up & Books

$700 / month

- Everything in Starter
- Automatic follow-up on leads that went quiet
- Review request after every finished job
- Invoices and receipts read and filed
- One-page monthly summary of what came in

FULL CUSTOM

Built Around You

$1,500 / month

- Everything in Growth
- Intake that knows your hours, services, and schedule
- Agents that run a recurring job start to finish
- A dashboard showing enquiries, jobs, and revenue together
- Priority builds as the business changes

Too small for all that? Start with one.

One task, one time from $75

Pick the single thing you keep doing by hand. Built, handed over, yours. No monthly anything.

Essentials $150 / month

One system running — usually missed-call capture — kept working and adjusted as you go.

Setup: $250–$500 one time on monthly plans, quoted before anything is built. Month to month — no contract, no seat counts. You approve the price and the timeline first, every time.

PROCESS How a build works

- 01 Specify. You describe the task you keep repeating and what a good result looks like. Takes one conversation.
- 02 Quote. You get a clear price and timeline in writing before any work starts.
- 03 Build. It gets built for your workflow, handed over working, and adjusted until it fits.

Not included: websites, SEO, social media posting, branding, or answering your phone in person. One thing, done properly — anything else is quoted separately.

Why not the usual options

- ✓ You own it. Built in your accounts, on your tools. If we stop, it keeps running.
- ✓ No per-seat pricing and no platform to migrate onto.
- ✓ Nothing is a template with your logo on it — it is built for how your business actually runs.
- ✓ Built here in Cullman. You can call the person who wrote it.

Built one at a time, so I work with 4–6 businesses at once. The honest next step is a fifteen-minute conversation about one task.

Start with one task.

Tell me something you keep doing by hand. You will get a price and a timeline before anything is built.
